Our Pride is on Display

by David Ruff, Director

Book displays represent more than just great books, music CDs, and movies – they also represent a great deal of work by our staff in bringing our “premium materials” to your attention. We are proud of our displays, but we are especially proud when you take them apart by taking the materials home!

We've now taken the display concept to a new level. When you book a room for a meeting at the library, we will create a customized display of materials for your group. The display will be waiting for you when you arrive and, we hope, will be taken home by your members. If some are not Rolling Meadows residents, all they have to do is register their home library card at our Check-Out Desk. We appreciate all your kind comments about how great the displays look, but we really like it when you help us ‘destroy’ the displays by checking out the materials...we promise to build more displays before your next visit!

Don't miss the bargains on books, audio books, DVDs, CDs and more!

Book Sale proceeds are used to fund the Arts Alive Concert Series, monthly movies, furnishings, murals, catalog upgrades, the Wi-Fi system, and many other library enhancements. If you can't make it to the book sale, come to the Friends Book Shop on the library's main floor. Open during all normal library hours.
